SWIM WITH PIGS

Charlotte's Waterwings? Not on this aqua-hog.

We knew they couldn't fly, but swimming is another matter.

In case you didn't already get the memo, there are famous pigs in Exuma Cays of the Bahamas, sweet-faced porcine that for reasons that pass understanding have no trouble with the basic dog-paddle. Or pig-paddle. Whatever. (See video.)

Now, I've been swimming with sharks, bluefin tuna, jellyfish and (most dangerous of all) toddlers in diapers, but it never occurred to me — and most of us, I'm guessing — to frolic in the waves with tiny porkers.

Fortunately, the folks at Grand Isle Resort & Spa in Exuma put it all together — adorable pigs, doing adorable things you don't expect — and are offering a lodging package that includes: accommodations in a villa, daily breakfast for two and a half-day excursion to swim with the pigs.

Just how much to you love pigs? Well, rates start at $499 per night for a three-night minimum. For more details, go to www.GrandIsleResort.com

That's swim, pig. That'll swim.
